BUT WHAT WILL HAPPEN IF FORD CAN'T SWIM

New York, March 21.—Henry Ford is soon to be converted to preparedness, Thos. A. Edison predicted today. He said he is going to get Ford out in a small boat several miles from shore on ocean near Palm Beach and ask him if he knows how to swim.

If Ford says no and that he does not believe in learning how to swim, Edison is going to upset that boat and start for shore, yelling back to Henry:

"Don't you think you would be a little better off had you been prepared?"

If he doesn't get an affirmative answer, Edison said, he will know Ford is hopeless.

Frank Triska, Filipino war veteran, wanted to re-enlist. Turned down for physical defect. Killed self; gas.

CHICAGO GRAIN.—Grain up. Provisions steady. May wheat close, $1.11½c.

WHOLESALE PRODUCE.—Eggs, 19½c; butter, 36½c.
